

Faith. Wellness. Community.

formerly Virginia Baptist Homes

LifeSpire of Virginia, formerly Virginia Baptist Homes, operates four unique continuing care retirement communities serving approximately 1,200 residents in Culpeper, Daleville, Newport News and Richmond. We also recently launched Lakewood at Home, a membership-based program for healthy, independent seniors living at home in the Richmond area. Each welcomes and supports people of all backgrounds in a faith-based family atmosphere.

As a family of faith-based communities with a growing Foundation that raises funds for benevolence, LifeSpire is dedicated to serving residents by providing a fulfilling and worry-free lifestyle.

The future is bright for LifeSpire. We are excited to host the grand opening of our new community in Culpeper on May 10. The expansion of our Lakewood campus is also slated to open October 2019. Renovations at The Chesapeake are well underway, and a newly constructed 20-bed memory care neighborhood at The Glebe will open later this year. Finally, the launch of Lakewood at Home provides a new experience for seniors who want to age in their homes while also enjoying the benefits of continuing care without walls.

In an ever-changing landscape of senior adult living, LifeSpire remains true to its long-standing tradition of excellence, innovation, and compassion. This tradition continues to propel us forward into a future filled with promise and hope.

Dr. J. T. Edwards, pastor of Culpeper Baptist Church, had a vision to create a Christ-centered home to care for Virginia's aging adults. From its beginnings in has been an organization with strong ties to Virginia Baptists. LifeSpire's vision for the future is focused on vibrant living where faith, wellness, and community flourish. LifeSpire empowers individuals with choices in purposeful living through our core values: Faith, Servant-Leadership, Stewardship, Integrity, Peace of Mind, Innovation and Joy.
